

International Quadball Association Membership Report

(2021 - 2023) by the IQA Membership Department

International Quadball Association (IQA) Membership Report Summary

The IQA is made up of 38 member organizations working in partnership from around the world. The National Governing Bodies (NGB) that make up the IQA are filled with a diversity of players, teams, fans, and volunteers. The membership department helps keep track of the active participation within the quidditch community. This includes tracking the number of active players, teams, referees, and other volunteers within the member organizations. This information helps the IQA better connect our member NGBs in a variety of ways.

IQA Affiliated National Governing Bodies

These organizations are the representatives that make up the IQA and together form the Assembly of Members. The Assembly of Members is the governing body that guides the direction of the IQA through NGB communication and voting. Each IQA Full Member NGB receives one vote in the Assembly of Members. Observation abilities are allowed to IQA Associate Members as well. These NGBs are categorized within the IQA based on their membership status.

IQA Areas of Interest

The IQA recognises 1 Area of Interest, Indian Quadball Association.

The IQA has been approached by individuals and organisations in the Ivory Coast, Venezuela, Kazakhstan and Azerbaijan to establish quadball in their countries.

The newly established membership expansion team hopes to work with all of these areas to achieve associate membership status. As the world slowly recovers from COVID-19 we are excited for all new opportunities this brings and hope to attract both new Areas of Interest, and to support those groups into becoming Associate and Full Members.
